Jubilee Year of Mercy

This Tuesday the 8th December begins the year of Mercy. Pope Francis has asked that we acknowledge this year as a year when we personally acknowledge God's merciful love in our lives and respond to that love in a real and meaningful way. I invite people in the parish who are interested in setting up a group to organise and steer events in our parish over this year.

This is the door in St. Eunan's Cathedral in Letterkenny which will be designated as the Diocesan Holy Door for the Jubilee Year of Mercy which begins on December 8th. Conveniently those who designed and built the Cathedral more than a century ago were foresighted enough to carve the quite appropriate inscription above the door. (I am the Door). You are invited to the opening of this door on Mercy in the cathedral next Sunday 13th December at Noon, followed by Mass by the bishop. During the year we hope to have a 24 hour Adoration in March, and a commitment to Divine Mercy, as well as confessions for those who wish to avail of this time of mercy.

Remembrance Mass on Tues 8th December at 7.30pm in St Crona's Church, Dungloe for all who have passed away due to Cancer, Long term illness, Tragic or Sudden Death those currently undergoing treatment and Survivors. After mass we will proceed to Stepping Stones to officially light up the Ribbon Memorial Tree. Brendan, Brenda and Aidan McGeehan will turn on the lights dedicating the Angel on top of the Tree to their daughter and sister Leah who passed away earlier this year. Light refreshments served & we will have a raffle for some lovely prizes and our draw will take place. We would love you all join us to support this charity event.

Welcome

Keeping one wary eye firmly on me, having just poured water on his head, we welcomed little Connor Conrad Baumgartner into the Christian Community last weekend.
