In Appreciation

We sadly learned of the closure of the Welcome Centre in Burtonport which had been a hub of joyous activity in our neck of the woods over the years. Happily it has been witness to the generation of two excellent café's in the area The Wheelhouse and the Harbour Front, joining the succulent Chippie and our new souvenir/craft shop at Mary Campbells, joining the existing and excellent Lobster Pot Restaurant and the legendary Jimmy Johnnies Public House and the unveiling of new and exciting plans for the port area. As it closes its doors, we thank the committee and the many volunteers who brought the spark of hope into the port decimated by the unacceptable decline of the fishing industry in the area.

I wish to acknowledge receipt of a cheque from the committee which it made from its closing down sale recently, shared with a couple of other good causes. Our amount was €1800 and for that I am truly grateful.

First Communions

Cousins Katie Sharkey and Ayva Boyle stole the show at their First Holy Communions on Friday in St. Columba's Church.
